News from the Interior.

THE CHACHO'S CAMPAIGN.

By latest accounts from Córdoba, we learn that Peñaloza, so far from having been captured, is amusing his pursuers. We read of another skirmish; but the same old story as usual—for want of horses, the enemy escaped—fifty men of the enemy were killed, according to this account; so we may regard it as no small affair.

By latest intelligence, it appears there is another "Richmond in the field", in the shape of one "Cárlos Angel", who in the mountain parts, with a small band of followers, maintains an extensive guerrilla with our troops.

All the Generals, Officers and recruits are in hot chase after him; they came up with him the other day, and according to Don Juan Carranza's account, pitched into him most unmercifully, and took as trophies 18 tired horses, six with recados, 4 carbines, one sword, one sabre, 4 lances, and one defunct rebel.

Don Pablo Isasa displayed cool courage throughout this engagement.

The newest thing from San Luis is Rivas's dispatch; he, Col. Sandes, Carranza, Echegaray, and Aldecoa, are all in San Luis, in hot pursuit of the famous Chacho.

The account of Chacho's forces is the subject of great dispute; some say he has 90, whilst others over 900 men.

Paunero seems to be rather dilatory in catching him, for what reason God knows; except it be the best of all, namely, that he is not able.

MESSAGE

of the Government of Bs. Ayres.

To the Honorable Legislative Assembly, 1st May, 1862.

THE Executive Power } Buenos Ayres, May 1st 1862

To the Hon. Legislative Assembly.

When the Executive prover presented to Y. H. the preceding year, a statement of the political and administrative situation of the Province, we were surrounded by the most difficult and dangerous circumstances. The Deputies who had been sent to the National Congress, in fulfilment of existing treaties were repulsed by a most unqualified spirit of hostility to this Province and their most evident rights, disavowed: there was no other alternative left. Buenos Aires, but to accept the war provoked by the Government of the Confederation with the hope of reducing it to that submission in which it kept the other provinces. The Government accepted regretfully although with decision a position which it could not evade except with sacrifice to the dignity of the country and must cordially thank you for the efficacious cooperation given to it without reserve. Victory crowned the immense efforts and sacrifices of this generous people, and the Executive Power presenting itself to day before Y. H. in fulfilment of the provision of this Constitution, experiences the most lively satisfaction in being enabled to tell you that right and justice have triumphed in the whole republic; that the ominous power of caudillos has been broken every where; and that finally Buenos Aires has re-vindicated in honor and good of the cause of liberty the position which pertains to it in virtue of the principles it proclaims.

Honorable Senators and Deputies, let us give thanks before all to God supreme being for the visible protection afforded us to obtain such grand results.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

All the resources of the Province being engaged in the struggle to which it was provoked; the most noble and active part of the community diverted from their occupations for several months by the fatigues of war, it is not to be expected that the statements of advance and improvements presented herewith will be so satisfactory as that of previous years. Notwithstanding this in the midst of so many difficulties the Province has steadily advanced and it may be asserted that peace and public tranquility are established and the future freed from the uncertainties and perils which have been a constant menace during the last ten years, the heavy sacrifices made by the country will very speedily be fully compensated.

The authorizations conferred by the Governments of the Provinces to the Governor of Buenos Aires, to provide for the convocation of the National Congress which is to reorganize the high political institutions are well known to your H. as well as that given to exercise the National Executive authority. You also know the use which he has made of them in virtue of the authorization you gave him to accept them.

The installation of the National Congress will take place in this city on the 25th May. Freely elected by the people, safe from any coercion by this community, accustomed to the debates and agitations of the bar, it will this time represent the intelligence and genuine will of the republic. The Government expects that its enlightened judgment will be enabled to give an appropriate and just solution to Argentine questions, which may conciliate all interests, without offending any, so that thus, after so many misfortunes, the republic may at last be enabled to present itself solidly constituted, under the empire of liberty and peace.

In the exercise of the same authority, the Governor of Buenos Ayres has already commenced relations with the Foreign Ministers and Consuls residing in the republic, and has received from them all the most cordial felicitations for the installation of an authority which may represent, although temporarily, the Argentine nation.

In the meantime, the Government of Buenos Ayres cultivates the most amicable relations with the sister provinces, testifying to them, on every opportunity, the lively interest which animates it for their progress and welfare.

It is satisfactory for the Government to be enabled to announce to you, that no disagreeable incident has occurred in the frequent relations maintained with the foreign consuls residing in Buenos Ayres. Proceeding under the basis of the most rigorous justice, it has been easy to give a convenient solution to the satisfaction of all, in all the cases which have presented themselves.

The unfortunate epoch of the dictatorship had left a heavy claim against the state, in the large number of demands of foreign subjects. The Government had previously communicated to you that it had obtained, by means of its commissioner, the settlement with the representatives of foreign powers, for the solution of these difficult questions, as well as to prevent them in future. A final arrangement has recently been signed by our commission and the consul of his Majesty the Emperor of the French, in whose virtue the claims of French subjects up to date have been completely satisfied and cancelled, with the sum of three millions public six per cent, bonds, to be delivered by the Government.

The settlement of the claims of British subjects is about being concluded with H.B.M.'s consul, and even now the Government can assure you that the total amount will not exceed half the amount agreed with the French consul.

The Government feels sorry to say to you that the claims of subjects of other nations are not equally near termination. It is, nevertheless, satisfactory to be able to add, that this delay is by no means due to the commissioner appointed to examine them.

This subject will be opportunely submitted with the respective projects and the Government expects that they will merit your approbation.

The different offices dependent on the Home Department, continue duly fulfilling their duties.

The High Court of Justice, the inferior Courts, and the Municipality, also fulfil their duties with intelligent and laborious attention, and although independent in their functions from the Government, the latter is well pleased to confirm it.

The civil courts have at last given their sentence in the cause against the culprit Juan Manuel Rosas, condemning him to the ordinary pain of death for his individual misdeeds. This condemnation, if late on the one hand, is better for its impartiality. After the lapse of ten years, Rosas is no more a political entity; his names and his crimes are passing to tradition. Therefore, the sentence of his judges, uninfluenced by passion, may be considered the calm and severe judgment of history, which, after condemning the sanguinary and ferocious ruler, places the man in the category of common robbers and assassins.

The political circumstances which have affected the country during the last few years, and especially during the one just transpired, have naturally affected the University, which, therefore, has not been able to attain either the possible development of the teaching, or the advancement which might have been expected from the pupils in normal times.

The Government, in the midst of the pressing urgencies of the war, has not been able to devote its attention to this important establishment, by taking into consideration several projected internal reforms of the establishment, which the Rector has proposed, and will be attended shortly. Notwithstanding this, it has given its cooperation in many respects, even in the midst of the war, and especially by in the material improvement of the building, which is now one of the finest in the city.

At present the Rector is actively engaged in the realization of a suggestion, which without causing any expense to the State, may facilitate to the professors and students a new centre of instruction, in the same establishment, placing at their disposition a Library for their special use, which may in future be made public.

On the other hand, it is easily understood that when the country placed a gun in the student's hands, it was not possible to demand great progress, their attention being distracted by object so foreign to a scientific education.

The number of matriculated students during the past year in the different branches, comprised in the University studies, has been 701, and of those who have been examined 171.

During the present year, the number of admissions has reached 511, and a large number is daily admitted.

The old and virtuous Rector of the Ecclesiastical Seminary continues his commendable efforts to maintain that establishment in its present state. Causes easily explained by the very situation which the country has passed through, have sensibly diminished the number of students who previously attended the Seminary. It is to be expected that in the tranquil epoch which the country is just entering, this important establishment which already possesses some means of self-support, will offer the services to which it is called.

(PER HIBERNIAN, vid LONDONDERRY.)

The following is the text of President Lincoln's message to Congress:—

"Fellow Citizens of the Senate and House of Representatives,

"I recommend the adoption of a joint resolution by your honourable bodies, substantially as follows:—

"Resolved—That the United States ought to co-operate with any State which may adopt a gradual abolishment of its slavery, giving to such State pecuniary aid, to be used by such State in its discretion, to compensate for the inconveniences, public and private, produced by such change of system.

"If the proposition contained in the resolution does not meet the approval of the Congress and the country, there is the end; but if it does command such approval, I deem it of importance, that the States and people immediately interested should be at once distinctly notified of the fact, so that they may begin to consider whether to accept or reject it.

"The Federal Government would find its highest interest in such measure, as one of the most efficient means of self-preservation. The leaders of the existing insurrection entertain the hope that the Government will ultimately be forced to acknowledge the independence of some part of the disaffected region, and that all the slave States north of such parts will then ray,—"The Union for which we have struggled, being already gone, we now choose to go with the Southern section." To deprive them of this hopes substantially end, the rebellion, and the initiation of emancipation completely deprives them of it, as to all the States initiating it. The point is not that all the States tolerating slavery would very soon, if at all, initiate emancipation; but that while the offer is equally made to all, the more Northern shall, by such initiation make it certain to the more Southern, that in no event will the former ever join the latter in their proposed Confederacy. I say 'initiation', because, in my judgment, gradual and not sudden emancipation is better for all.

"In the more financial or pecuniary view, any member of Congress, with the census tables and the Treasury reports before him, can readily see for himself how soon the current expenditure of this war would purchase at a fair valuation all the slave in any named State.

"Such a proposition on the part of the general Government sets up no claim of a right by Federal authority to interfere with slavery within State limits, referring as it does the absolute control of the subject in each case to the State and its people immediately interested. It is proposed as a matter of perfectly free choice with them.

"In the annual message last December I thought fit to say:—'The Union must be preserved, and hence all indispensable means must be employed.' I said this not hastily but deliberately. War has been, and continues to be an indispensable means to this end. A practical re-acknowledgment of the national authority would render the war unnecessary, and it would at once cease. If, however, resistance continues, the war must also continue, and it is impossible to foresee all the incidents which may attend and all the ruin which may follow it. Such as may seem indispensable, or may obviously promise great efficiency toward ending the struggle I must and will come.

"The proposition now made, though an offer only, I hope it may be esteemed no offence to a k whether the pecuniary consideration tendered would not be of more value to the States and private persons concerned, than are the institution and property in it in the present aspect of affairs.

"While it is true that the adoption of the proposed resolution would be merely in theory, and not within itself a practical measure, it is recommended in the hope that it would soon lead to important results. In full view of my great responsibility to my God and to my country, I earnestly beg the attention of Congress and the people to the subject.

(Signed) "ABRAHAM LINCOLN."

Ireland.

On the 18th the Lord-Lieutenant visited the Church Education Society Schools in Dublin.

The Hibernian Bank in Dublin having subscribed to the Prince Albert memorial, several shareholders have found fault, and purpose calling the directors to account.

As Cork has a miserable old cathedral, the new bishop has resolved to have one built, and commenced a list of subscriptions by putting his own name down for £100.

The deanery of Ferns, rendered vacant by the death of Dr. Henry Newland, has been conferred on the Rev. Hamilton Verschoyle, senior chaplain of the Baggot street Episcopal chapel in Dublin.

At the sitting of the court-martial on Captain Robertson on the 18th, the evidence on both sides was brought to a close, and the court, on the application of the prisoner, adjourned till the 21st that he might have time to prepare the observations he intends to offer in reply.

The Lord Lieutenant of Ireland entertained at dinner on the 17th, in commemoration of St. Patrick's day, the Lord Mayor, various members of the corporation, and the heads of the principal departments. The cloth having been removed, his Excellency, amongst other toasts, proposed (says the Irish Times) the "health" of the patron saint of Ireland, and the guests.

The IRISH PRINCE CONSORT MEMORIAL.—A highly influential meeting was held at the Mansion House, Dublin, on the 15th, to inaugurate a movement for the erection in that city of an Irish memorial of the Prince Consort. £1200 was subscribed before the meeting closed. Amongst the first subscribers was Mr. B. L. Guinness, who gave the sum of £200. The Hibernian Bank contributes £100. The country subscriptions, we understand, already amount to £500, which will at least be doubled before the country lists are closed.

A Mrs. Winter, who has been often engaged in litigation, always acting a her own counsel, and also travelling as a public lecturer on law reform, has got into trouble in Galway. Claiming a right to some house in that town, she took forcible possession of it, with the aid of some men. On the 18th, at the assizes, she was found guilty of this and of riot, and sentenced, with her companions, to six weeks' imprisonment. A crowd assembled, expecting a display of forensic eloquence on the part of the fair traverser, but in this serious case she intrusted her defence to counsel.

DEATH OF A CENTENARIAN.—Died a few days ago at his residence, Corcullegue, near Carrickmacross, sincerely and deservedly regretted, Mr. Thomas Duffy, at the patriarchal age of 107 years, born in 1795. He survived the existence of four crowned heads in England, from George II. up to our beloved Queen Victoria. Four in France, from Louis XIV. to the present day. During his long and healthful life he bore and honestly earned the reputation of being a kind and affectionate father, a sincere and steering friend, and an upright, unbiased and obliging neighbour.—Newry Examiner.

On St. Patrick's Day, the Irishmen in London paid all due honour to their patron saint. A succession of religious services was held in St. Patrick's Church, and in the evening a banquet came off in the Freemason's Tavern. The Duke of Cambridge presided. His Royal Highness, in proposing the toast of "the Queen," referred to the death of the Prince Consort. He had had the honour of seeing her Majesty that day, and though she had borne up under her visitation with a fortitude which had excited the admiration and sympathy of all, still, said his Royal Highness, I believe that many—very many years must elapse before she will recover from her misfortune, if, indeed, she ever entirely recovers from it during life time at all.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN DUBLIN.—The great banquet of the National Brotherhood of St. Patrick, celebrated at the Rotondo, was a failure in all things but the viands. The eatables were good, so were the potables, but the only fiery spirits present were on the table, not on the platform. The O'Donoghue was absent, George Henry Moore was absent, Smith O'Brien was absent, J. B. Dillon was absent, the Abbe Lavelle was absent. The chair was taken by a Mr. Ryan, a grocer, we believe. There was no confusion, no disorder, no wild declarations of policy. One gentleman, indeed, wished to lay the grievances of Ireland at the foot of the French throne, as if the Emperor had not sufficient trouble with his own people. But otherwise there were no overt declarations of treason.—Irish Times.

—Eight priests belonging to the "deanery of Clifden," Connemara, have issued a rather strongly-worded protest against Sir Robert Peel's statements with respect to the distress which prevails in the west of Ireland. After soundly rating the "tourist of Switzerland," the government, and those landowners who "know their rights and ignore their duties," the rev. remonstrants declare—"We assure both rulers and such landlords that, although we detest anarchy and revolution, we shall, in future, cease to discourage every legitimate resistance to an order of things so utterly degrading to the manhood of any people; and that we shall not willingly be perpetual mourners beside our weeping country, appropriately called the "Niobe of Nations," by that man of talent and patriotism, George Henry Moore, of Mayo."

LOCAL EVENTS.

GOVERNMENT STATISTICS.—We have been favored with the Statistics of commerce of the Port of Buenos Aires.

PRESS PROGRESS.—This month promises an Editorial harvest: the "Nacional" had yesterday 150 new subscribers. The "Tribuna" also boasts a great increase; and this paper, in its new Weekly form, has gained some three score.

LAING V. DICKSON.—This protracted suit has been decided in the Civil court, by appeal from the Criminal. In the latter a verdict had been given for Mr. Laing; and now the tables are turned, just as happens at home, in the approved game of law and Equity.

MATADEROS; SOUTH.—The cattle imported during the month of April, and remaining over from that of March amounts to 42,027 head, distributed as follows—

Slaughter for consumption	11,126
do. taken out for do.	2,040
do. for Saladeros	26,304
Stock on hand for May	2,057
	42,027

CHOLERA MORBUS continues in Pernambuco and other places of the Brazil coast. Our port authorities should be very cautious, and even rigid, in the enforcement of their quarantine regulations.

We cannot pretend to find our safety in the healthiness of our climate; Montevideo, under far preferable sanitary conditions, is a lasting memorial of this infatuation.

The Boca River is a focus of corruption, where disease, once introduced, it would be[illegible] very difficult, if not impossible, to eradicate.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editors of the Standard.

Gentlemen—

Have the goodness to insert in your valuable paper the following article in answer to one which appeared in the Nacional of April 30th, signed The Pattigos in which they give an account of the sation of the Pilot Boat "Velos" from a dangerous reef in the Port of Colonia on which she grounded on the 25th ult. and of the ingratitude of her owners in not publicly acknowledging the services of all that assisted in getting her off.

When the "Velos" arrived here after the accident, we could not ascertain from her Captain anything satisfactory about the accident or the assistance rendered, on the following day,we dispatched the Whale Boat Sebastopol with instructions to the agent in Colonia to send us in writing all the particulars and the names of the parties or persons that so generously assisted in saving the vessel. As the "Sebastopol" has not as yet returned it is not in the power of the Owners of the "Velos" as yet to give that public and heartfelt thanks which they are eager to give to all those to whom they are so deeply indebted for the salvation of that vessel.

GEORGE KEAN.—CHARLES ROBERTS,
Owners of the Velos.
BS. AS. May 1.—'52.—Peso John No. 39.

To the Editor of the Standard.

Sir—

As I perceive the banking question to be just now in the ascendant, as likewise the idea of joint-stock banks seems to be the "order of" Buenos Ayres, I may thus be permitted to remark, through your columns, the success marked and decided, which has attended those establishments in Ireland: 1st, we have the Provincial, the shares of which started at £25, and are now worth £38, the bank meantime, paying 15 per cent; 2nd, the National shares, original price £22 10s, now worth £34, and paying 15 cent; next we have the Royal, shares, original price, £10, now £33, paying 15 per cent—id. est., 12 per cent per annum, and 3 bonus. We have also the Hibernian, the £25 shares of which are now £45, and paying 9 per cent, although yet in its infancy. Together with these examples, we have the Ulster Banks, whose mercantile position is the ne plus ultra of perfection, as their shares are all above par, and paying a large interest. In a word, the soundness of the Irish Joint-Stock Banks presents a splendid precedent to Buenos Ayres, as, if "example sheds a genial ray," Ireland is certainly in a position to shelter Buenos Ayres within her solvent glooms. All the Irish Banks have likewise very large "rest funds," which places them above any danger or emergency, and thus yearly increases (if possible) this already well-known—nay, proved—solvency.

Yours truly,
VERITAS.

On Change.

May 2nd.

The Governor's speech could not keep ounces down. Very few sold at prices opening at 409 and closing at 410.

At the plazas few sales of wool have taken place. The stocks of good qualities are small, and keep up their prices. In saladero produce there are no sales, and little inclination on the part of buyers.

We noticed yesterday a very important sale of hides from the Rivers, as yet the price is not ascertained. 3,000 hides from Corrientes were added to day to a parcel of 3,500 sold yesterday at 44, 45 and 46 ds.

The British barque Golden Eagle is chartered to load at Montevideo for Liverpool direct, salted hides and tallow at 62 shillings 6 pence and 5 per cent.

It is very strange that no notice has been published of the change of flag and name of several American vessels in our port. This oversight causes many inconveniencies to our merchants.

We have heard of the following American barque, John C. Brune, to be National barque Catalina; American brig Adelaida Pender, great to be the Adelaida; and American schooner J. H. Tonsend, to-be Lobo Chico.

The following sales have taken place to-day—

! Important to Sheep ! Farmers

A sure cure for the Scab in Sheep.

The undersigned has the pleasure of announcing to the Wool Growers of this country, that he has now received a large quantity of the celebrated Scab Dozen Sheep Wash.

This valuable preparation is highly recommended for its safety, convenience, utility and economy. It is a concentrated extract, one pound of which is equal to ten pounds of tobacco, retaining in this compact form all the properties of the raw material at the same time saving the very disagreeable and tedious operation of preparing the wash as is usually practised in this country. The only labor required with the article now offered to the public, is to stir the paste into the quantity of water needed for the Sheep that are intended to be dipped. This Sheep Wash is highly recommended and extensively used by the Wool Growers of Australia and South Africa The Samples that have been used by some of the Estancieros of this Country, have given the most perfect satisfaction, and are recommended by them as the most efficacious remedy ever used in this country; for further particulars apply either personally or by letter to

C. S. BOWERS.

At Messrs. James Bell & Co. (Calle Defensa, esquina Moreno.)

Important Testimonial.

Buenos Ayres, March 28 1862.

Dear Sir:

Having used your South Down Sheep Wash, on my flocks, I take pleasure in recommending it to all Wool Growers of this country, as the most efficacious remedy I have ever used for diseases in Sheep, and especially for removing the Scab.

I have tried many eminent remedies both here and in Scotland, and have found nothing that has given such perfect satisfaction as the South Down Sheep Wash.

Trusting that the merits of this valuable preparation may become more fully known, and earnestly commending it to the attention of all those interested in sheep,

I remain, yours, &c.,
NINIAN JOHNSTONE.

To Mr. Chas. J. Bowers.

THE TEETH

DR. CORNWALL,
American Dentist,

CALLE RIVADAVIA, No. 275,

Performs all operations for the relief of pain in the teeth, and for restoring such as are partially decayed to health and beauty.

Teeth filled by him with gold or composition will last for years, and often for life, without repair. Thus beginning to loosen, from the deposit of tartar and inflammation of the gums, restored to health and usefulness. Exposed and painful nerves rendered insensible, and the necessity of extraction often avoided. Bad breath radically cured, by removing its principal causes, viz., tartar and decayed teeth. Extraction of teeth and roots by means of instruments adapted to each particular case, with the least possible pain.

The best mineral teeth inserted on pivot, gold plate, or vulcanite, from one to a whole set without the necessity of extracting the roots. Entire sets inserted on the atmospheric principle, without the inconvenience of spiral springs, and every case warranted to give satisfaction. Advice gratis
